Education is considered to be a Panacea. The word 'education' literally means 'to bring out'. In common parlance, the term 'education' implies systematic and scholastic instruction and cultivation of physical, intellectual, aesthetic, and moral faculties. The endeavors of the Government of India through the Swachhata hi Seva campaign aim at orienting anthropogenic activities as Swabhav Swachhata Sanskaar Swachhata to imbibe the spirit in every action on a day-to-day basis & to inculcate the sensitivity towards environmental concerns as envisioned and aimed through Sustainable Development Goals. Youth involvement in Waste Management practices is crucial for fostering sustainable environmental practices. Young people bring energy, innovation, and a willingness to adopt new technologies and approaches to waste reduction, recycling, and awareness campaigns.

Inspired by the philosophy of 'Be the change you want to see in others' and 'Swachhata hi Seva', there is a need to undertake youth-led initiatives that can drive societal change by raising awareness of the environmental impacts of waste and encouraging sustainable behavior, ensuring long-term ecological conservation for the future generation.
